First Take Media Arts Camp at the Library

Lancaster, TX – The Lancaster Veterans Memorial Library was recently awarded funding for a video media project called First Take Media Arts Camp. The first session begins January 20, 2015 and will meet twice a week at the library over a period of six weeks. This program will include two 6-week sessions in the spring and two 3-week sessions in the summer. A parent and/or guardian permission is required and the participant must be a resident of the City of Lancaster with a valid Lancaster Veterans Memorial Library card (in good standing) for participation.

This project is a cooperative program between the Lancaster Veterans Memorial Library and the Lancaster Independent School District and is designed to introduce students from seventh to ninth grade into the world of video media production. Taught by video media industry professionals; students will learn about camera operation, script writing, lighting, audio recording, audio and video synching, and video editing. We are very excited to offer this unique program for the students of Lancaster. This will strengthen the existing audio/video program that is offered within the Lancaster Independent School District by familiarizing and equipping these students with the necessary tools for media production.

For more information on this program or the many other programs offered by the Lancaster Veterans Memorial Library, call (972) 227-1080 or visit www.lancaster-tx.com/library. The Lancaster Veterans Memorial Library is located at 1600 Veterans Memorial Parkway in Lancaster.
